

Safetica Endpoint Security – Product Description

Full product description (containing all the main benefits and features)

The full product description is to be used on website and in official documents.

Safetica Endpoint Security is the only software which reveals and instantly eliminates any threats caused by employees. It is like a shield that warns you about any emerging threats inside your company. People quitting and stealing confidential data, disengaged employees wasting their working time or negligent workers – these are the typical sources of danger inside your offices, where antivirus or firewall cannot deliver effective protection.

Safetica Endpoint Security monitors employee behavior, warns you about any potential threat in advance, and blocks all undesirable activities. With this complete approach you get the best possible internal security solution for your company together with strong help regarding regulatory compliance. And you don't even have to leave your chair.

Middle length product description

The middle length product description is to be inserted into articles and press releases.

Safetica Endpoint Security is the only security software detecting and at the same time eliminating any threats caused by your employees: sensitive data leaks, employee negligence or productivity related loss.

Short product description

The short product description briefly explains the purpose of the product.

Safetica Endpoint Security is the only software which reveals and instantly eliminates any threats caused by employees.